

FORWARD

Future of Rest and Work Angewandte Research Department
University of Applied Arts Vienna
Oskar Kokoschka-Platz 2
1010 Vienna

The way we work has changed and will change even more. From exploitative short-term contracts, to automation and beyond. FORWARD is a new research platform which focuses research on the question of new labour and rest in the digital age. FORWARD is platform for communication between researchers and funding institutions. The aim of this platform is to support the dramatically needed increase of research about future forms of work and leisure. We hope that you will consider this application.
